COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Once more the people of Maine have the privilege of making a choice of the people who will administer the affairs of the State of Maine, and speak for us in the matters of our national government in Washington. Many people in other lands have little or no choice in these matters. Will we in Bethel make the most of this opportunity and cast our votes for the candidates of our choice or will we pass by the chance to voice our opinions?

You may be interested to know that to date we have had to expend nearly $2,700.00 of your money for town welfare cases. A little over $900.00 or almost exactly one-third of this money had to go to homes for the families of men who were either out of work because of the excessive use of alcohol or not sufficient left of the week's pay (after the week end parties) to buy their groceries. I realize your NO vote on the local option will not put an end to this but it may indirectly help through the years to come.

Thanks,
O. T. Rozelle

EDITORIAL

Local Option?

The election of state and county officials on next Monday is one that calls for more than the usual amount of thought on the part of the voters. It seems to be recognized that both parties have assembled excellent groups of candidates which with few exceptions may well please the independent voters who honestly seek to choose the best.

The question of "local option" on the sale of liquor again will confront the people. In the face of unceasing preachments of the fanatical breeders of the drinking habit and the broad-minded attitude of tolerance toward the "beverage of moderation" group, a citizen truly interested in the well-being of his community may be confused.

The fact is that those interested in the success of the liquor and malt beverage industry have vast funds available, as individuals and as groups, which are used liberally and successfully in the story of their product.

Reverend repeatedly are the amounts expended for agricultural products, payrolls, and taxes. Still in their minds are the expensive attempts of enforcement of prohibitory laws and the savings now in the era of legal sales. And the familiar argument that "they will have it anyway" shows up every two years.

In Maine, as in all other states, there have been frequent reports of violence, abuse, or murder which have been the direct results of the use of liquor or "malt beverages."

Note that the advertisers fail to state this common "end effect" of the use of their goods. During the past year, it is reported that a stern warning was issued by the distilling industry to newspapers and news outlets about associating liquor with acts of crime and violence in their reporting.

In this state last year 52 drivers who had been drinking were involved in fatal accidents. In other states there are reports of up to 40 per cent of the highway fatalities being caused by drinking drivers.

The purpose of this editorial, similar to others in two year intervals, is only to remind our readers of the evils which attend the sale and use of alcoholic drinks of any nature. This newspaper cannot keep from its readers the attractive publicity and misleading propaganda which saturate the radio and television waves and most magazines and newspapers. But we can repeat that those who would have you vote "Yes" are only interested in increasing the opportunities for the sale and use of liquor and malt beverages.

Although it must be admitted that all drinkers of alcoholic beverages do not become drunkards, it seems to be utter foolishness to encourage the use of anything which so often becomes a degrading habit. Your "No" vote may be the vote needed to keep from one of your family the danger and disgrace of the liquor habit.

Vote "NO."

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

How strong are the Russians and how adequate are the country's defense establishment and "armament program"? These enormous and important questions have been given an answer by our ranking military man, Admiral Arthur W. Radford, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The Admiral's views were presented to a Senate subcommittee and excerpts were released for publication at the beginning of August.

Admiral Radford pointed out that the threat to our security consists of the political and power of the Soviet Union and that the probability that the enemy capabilities are "without understanding our fundamental values and institutions." Moreover, the situation is vastly complicated by the fact that the threat is not solely a military one. It also involves economic, political and cultural programs. These are most to be feared by the people and are most difficult to counter all of these threats simultaneously.

ALICE-IN-TAXLAND

There is an Alice-in-Wonderland quality about our federal income tax laws, with their extremely high upper-bracket rates. U. S. News and World Report gives an example.

The magazine says: "A baseball player's angry gesture, during a ball game, may cost the Federal Government $4,200 in income taxes. It also may bring the athlete a personal profit of $4,200."

Does that sound absurd? Well, here's the true story. The world's highest-salaried ballplayer ($100,000 a year) was fined $5,000 by his club for a display of temper toward the fans. This is considered a business expense, for the reason that the fine must be paid if the player is to keep on practicing his profession. Thus, his taxable income is reduced by the $5,000.

After deductions, the top tax rate on this player's income is 81 per cent. So the fine gives him a tax reduction of $4,200, leaving him only $800 out of pocket. But that isn't all. Admirers of the player are reported to be making up a fund to pay the fine. U. S. News says: "If they give him $5,000, that amount is not taxable at all. In that case, the ballplayer would stand an $800 loss and a $5,000 gain, for a net profit of $4,200."

Very few of us have any personal experience with either $100,000 incomes or $5,000 fines. But this factual illustration indicates that how confused, inequitable, and generally unsound our tax laws are, take Topsy, they just grew and grew into a crazy quilt. That's why sentiment for a complete overhaul has been snowballing.

BETHEL GIRL CHOSEN IFYE DELEGATE FROM COUNTY

Miss Shirley M. Bartlett, Lucky Tower 4-H member from Bethel, was recently chosen delegate to the International Farm Youth Exchange program from Oxford County.

She indicates a preference for the spring phase of the IFYE program, and her first choice of a foreign visit would be Europe, with Asia and Latin America listed next. Switzerland, New Zealand, Sweden, England and Wales are countries of preference.

Active in club and community work, she has been a junior leader, assistant leader, leader, secretary, treasurer, and president in 4-H Club groups. She was a county blue ribbon winner for four years and received the Outstanding Member Award in 1953. She also received a trip to the Club Congress in Chicago in 1951, and to the National Club Camp, Washington, in 1953. She is a member of the 4-H Leaders' Association.

Miss Bartlett was graduated from Massachusetts General Hospital on June 15. She is a graduate of Gould Academy, 1953. She began her internship at Massachusetts General Hospital July 1.

WASHINGTON

Q—I applied to Veterans Administration for disability compensation by letter. VA sent me back a form to fill out. Is there a time limit as to when I must fill out this form back to VA?

A—The form should be mailed to VA within a year from the date it was sent to you, in order for VA to consider your original letter as the effective date of your application.

Q—Can you give the origin of the phrase "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion?"

A—A delegation of New York clergymen visited James B. Blaine at his headquarters in the Blaine-Cleveland campaign of 1884. Their spokesman told Blaine the party were Republicans and did not propose to identify themselves with the party of rum, Romanism and rebellion. The remark created considerable agitation among Catholics and was exploited by the Cleveland forces. As a result Blaine lost New York state by 524 votes. Had he carried the state it would have elected him President.

Q—Does the Regulation of Lobbying Act prohibit lobbying?

A—No. In no case does the Act curtail the right to act as a lobbyist. It merely requires disclosure of sponsorship, the pay received and the source of funds, and registration of the lobbyist.
